

Hulamin will not be held liable for any breach of the above requirements and the Contractor Companies will need to develop their own safe working procedures, standards, plans in order to work safely and also take all reasonable measures over and above these specifications